International application No. PCT/GB 03/04520

Re Item V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

GB-A-1 462 361 (copy enclosed) discloses an integrated respirator that provides an airtight barrier for a user's head comprising a first rigid helmet (17) and a flexible cowl (11) having an airtight neck seal (p. 1, l. 50-54), wherein the first rigid helmet defines an access aperture suitable for locating directly on a user's head and the flexible cowl (11) is sealably (p. 2, l. 55, 56) fixed (p. 1, l. 28-40) to the first rigid helmet (17) so providing a physical barrier for the access aperture while forming an airtight seal with a user's neck.

Consequently, the subject-matter of claim 1 is not novel.

The features of claims 2, 3 and 7 (cowl-piece 32) also have been disclosed in this document.

The features of claim 1 apart from the airtight neck seal have been disclosed in EP-A-1 210 882 (copy enclosed), see [0014], [0018]-[0022]. The provision of an airtight neck seal is an obvious step in respect of documents GB-A-1 462 361 or WO-A-93/14818 (fig. 2, (52)).

The features of claims 2 (col. 5, l. 58-col. 6, l. 2), 4 and 5 (col. 6, l. 2,3), 6, 8 and 10 (fig. 2a), 9 (fig. 1), 11, (fig. 2a, [0020]), 20 ([0013], (25a)), 22 (col. 5, l. 31-33) and 26 (74) have also been disclosed in EP-A-1 210 882. The features of claim 14 are likely to apply to the respiration system (76) disclosed in this document.

WO-A-93/14818 discloses the features of claims 12 (figs. 1-3), 14 (fig. 3), 27 and 28 (p. 7, l. 22-34).

The features of the method claim 31 are known from EP-A-1 210 882, see [0019-0021]. Consequently, the subject-matter of claim 31 is not novel.

The features of claims 32 ([0013], "location points" are likely to have been provided to ensure consistent assembling) and 34 ([0020], (70d)) are known from EP-A-1 210 882.

The features of claims 33 and 35 appear to involve generally known production methods.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/GB 03/04520

Since the composition of the coatings or material mentioned in claims 13, 30, 36 and 37 has not been disclosed in the application, it is obvious that these are generally known and will be used by the skilled person if their characteristics are needed to improve the protection and/or comfort provided by the respirator.

The features of the remaining claims (15-21,23-25,29) do not appear to be obvious in respect of the cited documents.
